

Adam Martin Disbrow

Major Expressionist, Musician, Poet

Adam Disbrow graduated from the University of Virginia and is recognized as a prolific creator of poetry and visual art, including sculpture, painting, and pencils. As an expressionist painter his merit earned him representation from world renowned Collector, Alexander Salazar Fine Art in San Diego, California. Adam publicly displays across the Piedmont area of Virginia, including his now hometown of Charlottesville, VA and is a founding member of the Sperryville ARTist Cooperative in Sperryville, Virginia.

Disbrow's work combines Abstract Expressionism, European Impressionism, and Neo-Expressionism in a style he refers to as, "Major Expressionism." He has a focus on layers of objective conceptuality and pulls upon both history and culture in his paintings. As a student of art history he acknowledges all art preceding his, and his painting are made to sit on the stairway of Man's history.

"When nothing is sacred and nothing is safe, art is brave"
-Adam Martin Disbrow