

Nancy Nord

Nancy currently creates both wheel-thrown and hand built pottery. She loves to paint on her pots and uses the clay as a canvas for fruits, vegetables, herbs and the other culinary treats that the pots may eventually hold. She has worked at Glen Echo Pottery, and studied at Penland School of Craft, and with Rappahannock potters Suzanne Zylonis and Jeanne Drevas. She finds that pottery provides a creative outlet from the stresses that life in the DC area can throw at a person.
