

MARILYN ARMOR

I am very eclectic in what I paint. Some of my paintings are interpretations of photos I have taken, a few are sparked by pictures I have seen, and then others— my abstracts—just come out of my head. In most cases I do not know what I am going to paint until just before I begin – and I love to just start mixing colors. I get great satisfaction from the many unexpected effects that come from working with watercolors.

My watercolors are mostly inspired by the beauty of Rappahannock County, where I lived for fourteen years on a farm with magnificent views of fields, forests, the Blue Ridge mountains, and a river running through it all. I also spend time on Cape Cod, where my love for the ocean becomes a subject for some of my watercolors as well. New Mexico is another setting that has influenced my work. Overall, nature is the primary inspiration for my art.

Most of my works can be viewed on my website, www.marilynarmorwatercolors.com