

I am finding my way as I paint and glad to be so engaged in the process.

I'm still following the simple directions, finding my way as I go and grateful for this painting path.

I am being moved to stop believing everything she thinks.
kindness in action