

Biography

Al Regnery is a retired attorney, book publisher, author and government official, who is a self-taught amateur woodworker and furniture maker. He has made tables, bedsteads, corner cupboards, sideboards, lowboys and many chairs, among other projects. His work is largely by hand, although he does use some woodworking machines, and uses mostly local hardwoods.