"Abduction of Europa"

Watercolor

Size: 24" x 18" (32" x 27" framed)

I initiated my studies in the early 80s with Prof. Yan Yee Hong at the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts in Singapore and later continued with Prof. August Ohm in Hamburg, Germany.

Leonardo advised artists to look everywhere for their motives, including stains on a wall or clouds in the sky. This is where I begin - with swirls of watercolor applied freely and without a conscious goal in mind. As I look at this amorphous veil of color I begin to see figures of all sorts. In this case a bull and a human reminded me of the Greek Mythology: The Abduction of Europa.

It will be on display at MSG during the Tour.
