I am a lifelong Virginia resident enjoying painting the beauty that surrounds us in the Commonwealth. I had a long career as an art teacher and now am delighted to dedicate myself to painting, both indoors and outdoors.

My focus is observing light and color first hand, and then capturing what I see in a sketch on site. Then I take it back to the studio and might make a larger, more resolved painting. I enjoy painting landscapes and architecture.

My work can be found at Middle Street Gallery.
