

Patricia's love for Pine-needle Basketry and Fabric dying has arisen from her love of gardening and natural crafts.

As a young woman she received a degree in Natural Resources which enables her to pursue her love of the environment which inspires her in all her art forms.

Living and raising her two children here in Rappahannock County for over 35 years has given her the opportunity to find inspiration from all the beauty Rappahannock has to offer as well as all the mentors that have guide her and fill her grateful heart with inspiration.
