

Devin Sherwood

I have always enjoyed drawing and the simplified lines of comics have inspired me since I was a kid. Most of my drawings stem from some part of daily life and with a little bit of spontaneous imagination the drawing turns into a festival of characters each engaging with the scene in their own way. There is a lot of fun in that atmosphere and whatever comes to my mind finds its space on the page.